

November 21, 2018

CAREER OPPORTUNITY

Job Title: Forest Engineer, E.I.T /
Resource Operations Specialist I

Location: Dillard, OR

Reports to: Resource Operations Supervisor

Essential Responsibilities:

- Independently work in a forestry setting on projects under close supervision
- Assist in harvest unit identification through field and office reconnaissance
- Assist in layout of harvest unit boundaries, including RMA establishment and Leave Tree designations, with understanding of the Oregon Forest Practices Act and Logging Systems
- Perform basic design tasks and basic Engineering Field work, including the location, design, and field staking of forest roads and landing location with an understanding of the Oregon Forest Practices Act and road construction practices
- Demonstrate the ability to learn how to perform cost analyses for logging, road and rocking alternatives on projects
- GIS mapping of roads, logging units, including development of road design packets
- Use of software (RoadEng, AutoCAD, Excel, Access, Logger PC etc.)
- Engineering crew duties, assist other Forest Engineers in their projects
- Preparation of permit applications for harvest units and road construction projects
- Search for, recover, and flag property corners and property lines
- Research survey corners/property lines and map and survey interpretation
- Assist in surveying construction sites, stockpiles etc.
- Assist Operations Supervisor in cooperation with local landowners and agencies
- Cut brush with hand tools and chainsaw
- Assist in other forest related activities, including forest fire suppression

Minimum Qualifications:

- Bachelor's degree in Forest Engineering, Forest Operations, Civil Engineering or a related resource field
- Fundamental knowledge of logging systems and road construction
- A basic understanding of the Oregon Forest Practices Act and in general forest operations
- Working knowledge of GIS, Word Processing and spreadsheet computer programs
- Be safety conscience in all aspects of job
- Physically capable of working productively on steep and adverse terrain in all weather conditions
- Highly organized, self-motivated team player that fosters a positive work environment
- Must be a self-starter with ability to work independently in a forest environment; with close supervision on unusual or difficult problems

Questions regarding this career opportunity should contact: Erwin Hackett 541.817.4570
erwinh@rfpco.com

If you are interested in being considered for this position, please sign up for an interview Tuesday, November 27th, 2018.

AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY EMPLOYER INCLUDING DISABILITY AND VETERANS