DESCRIPTION:

WASHINGTON STATE DEPARTMENT OF NATURAL RESOURCES

Greenhouse Nursery Manager, NR Specialist 3
Webster Nursery, Forest Resources Division – Tumwater
Recruitment # 2019-11-3860

This is a full-time, permanent, represented position.

Want to join something GREAT and make a difference?

Webster Forest Nursery was established in 1957 and has shipped over 886 million seedlings for reforestation in the Pacific Northwest. During the past 15 years, we have made significant investments in facilities and equipment, now we would like to make a significant investment in hiring a new Greenhouse Nursery Manager. This is your opportunity to be part of a great tradition and help us to reach 1 billion seedlings and beyond.

Webster Forest Nursery has 150 acres of tillable fields, 75,000 square feet of Argus climate controlled greenhouses and an active research program focused on operational production of forest seedlings. This position provides management of the greenhouse portion of Webster nursery. The incumbent develops priorities for seedling production, coordinates and allocates resources for the sowing, growing, harvest, packing, and storage of 3 to 5 million seedlings annually.

The Greenhouse Nursery Manager will be responsible for growing the container seedling crop (sowing seed and prescribing the irrigation, fertilization and pesticide regimes) and scheduling lifting/packing. Previous experience not required, but is highly desired.

Why work for DNR?

At DNR, we value public service, innovation and creative problem solving, safety and well-being, and leadership and teamwork. At DNR you'll support the vision of a sustainable future by using your skills to protect and manage the state's natural resources for both current and future generations. As a DNR employee, you'll work with the public's interest in mind as we manage more than 5 million acres of state-owned forest, range, commercial, agricultural and aquatic lands. But managing lands is only half of our story. We house the Washington Geological Survey, a dynamic program that is the primary source of geological products and services in support of decision making in Washington. We also protect other public resources such as fish, wildlife, water, and provide public access to outdoor recreation. Two of our largest and most important state-wide resource protection responsibilities are fire prevention and suppression, and overseeing forest practices.

We are nearly 1,500 employees strong and dedicated to making DNR a great place to work. Our mission is to serve Washington's lands and communities; build strong and healthy rural communities; enhance forest health and wildfire management; strengthen the health and resilience of our lands and waters; and increase public engagement and commitment to our public lands and resources. In partnership with citizens and governments, we provide innovative leadership and expertise to ensure environmental protection, public safety, perpetual funding for schools and communities, and a rich quality of life. At DNR we approach our work through the lens of making Washington a better place environmentally, economically and socially for current and future generations.

The Location

One of the world's most scenic places, Washington State offers breathtaking discoveries for people who love natural beauty and outdoor recreation, from the Pacific Coast shores to the rugged Cascade Mountains to the rolling hills of the Palouse. Your office will be located Tumwater, Washington, five miles south of Olympia and the Puget Sound.

What makes DNR a great place to work?

- Transitioning to a modern work environment
- Mobile work
- Infants at work program
- Commitment to organizational health and wellness
- Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Council
- Leadership that empowers and supports employees
- Work/life balance

Why do people choose to work for DNR?

"I enjoy the clients I support and there are a ton of smart, fun, passionate people in this agency that I have the privilege of interacting with and learning from. DNR is a great place because of the people who are here. They are passionate, hard-working, loyal, intelligent, kind, and FUN! The aspects of the agency that speak to me are how diverse the work is that we do; from forests to grass lands, from mountain tops to under water, the composition of the agency made up by various different responsibilities makes it so interesting."

"I am committed to this agency's purpose, the Washington Geological Survey is an amazing place full of innovative, creative, and open-minded people, and I get great satisfaction from serving Washington's residents. I love it here because this place loves me. I like how I am made to feel valued, appreciated, and I feel that my skills are constantly being broadened. I am generally my only limitation."

"The idea of managing the resources in perpetuity really speaks to me. I like that the work DNR does tries to strike a balance between business and conservation and that I don't have to compromise one for the other because I am expected to do both. We are expected to be good stewards of the resources and the decisions we make mean something...in perpetuity."
