Job Announcement – Director of Forest Taxation and Economics

The Washington Forest Protection Association (WFPA) seeks a highly skilled and motivated Director of Forest Taxation and Economics to lead its efforts in advancing tax, economic, and sustainable forest management policies. This critical role involves analyzing and advocating for timberland taxation reforms, leveraging data to support policy development, and collaborating with experts to integrate forestry into carbon markets and promote sustainable wood product markets. Reporting to the Executive Director, the Director will work closely with WFPA's Board of Trustees and committees to shape impactful policies that align with Washington's Climate Commitment Act, emphasizing sustainable forestry's role in carbon sequestration, wildfire risk reduction, and economic growth. If you are passionate about forest management, policy development, and driving economic and environmental progress, we invite you to join our team in this impactful leadership position.

This is your opportunity to make a significant impact on Washington's forestry sector by driving policies that support environmental stewardship, economic growth, and sustainable forest management.

How to Apply:

Interested candidates are encouraged to submit their resume and cover letter outlining their qualifications and vision for the role. Applications will be accepted until April 15th, 2025. Join WFPA and help shape the future of forestry in Washington State.
