

Applications are now being accepted for the position of student logging technician with the Department of Forest Engineering Resource Management Student Logging Training Program.

This job is a great opportunity to be exposed to all phases of a logging operation while providing for application of skills learned in the classroom. The work program is designed as a logging training program for interested and qualified students. Please contact Jeff Wimer, Jeffrey.wimer@oregonstate.edu for further information. To submit a resume go to: <http://jobs.oregonstate.edu/postings/83756>.